

Getting to Slovenia and Bled

Slovenia lies in the heart of Europe and is easily accessible by air, road and rail. Ljubljana International Airport is merely a 30-minute drive from Bled, while Trieste and Venice Airports in Italy and Klagenfurt Airport in Austria are other nearby options. Bled is compact, with all its facilities and sights being within walking distance.

BY AIR

Ljubljana Airport, Slovenia's main international gateway, is served by daily flights from numerous European cities. Most are operated by the national carrier Adria Airways, a Star Alliance member. Other airlines flying to Ljubljana include Air France, Finnair, Turkish Airlines, and the low-cost carriers EasyJet and Wizzair. Another option of getting to Slovenia by air is to fly to one of the nearby airports in neighbouring countries, such as Klagenfurt in Austria, Trieste and Venice in Italy or Zagreb in Croatia.

DIRECT SCHEDULED FLIGHTS TO LJUBLJANA AIRPORT

Ljubljana has direct flight connections with Amsterdam, Belgrade, Brussels, Copenhagen, Frankfurt, Istanbul, London, Moscow, Munich, Paris, Podgorica, Priština, Sarajevo, Skopje, Tirana, Vienna and Zurich.

BY CAR

Slovenia's motorway network is extensive, crossing the country from northwest to southeast and from southwest to northeast. The motorways, for the use of which a vignette is obligatory, are in good condition, and towns are clearly signposted.

BY BUS OR TRAIN

Busses and trains run to Slovenia daily from numerous European cities. Connections by sleeping car are also available.
