Originally from the Southern region of the United States, Donelle was drawn to the northeast for college and he has been making snow angels ever since! He joined our office at the start of 2013 and his regional responsibilities include Connecticut, Florida and Massachusetts.

Julie joined the admissions office in November of 2012 after having taught English in Asia and working as an advisor for EF (English First). Her previous international experience has prepared her well for her current role as International Student Coordinator. She is responsible for both domestic and international locations, including: District of Columbia, Guam, Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, Ohio, Virginia, Wisconsin, Bangladesh, the Caribbean, India, Latin America, Nepal, and Pakistan.

After working in industry for a period of time, Quontay came back to WPI to work in the admissions office. She holds two degrees in Civil Engineering and Environmental Studies and currently pursuing a Masters in Higher Education. Travel territories for Quontay include Georgia, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Vermont.

The numbers are in and WPI has had another record year for applications for the Class of 2017! We crossed the 8,500 mark and look to make final decisions for applicants by the end of March.

There are various summer program opportunities available on campus and the applications are now available!
