Please completed the entire supplement.

Application submission instructions:

admissions.wpi.edu/apply

WPI offers a variety of institutional merit scholarships to admitted students each year. All applicants for admission are automatically considered for general merit scholarships, including the Presidential and Unity scholarships, as well as the Chemistry and Biochemistry and Pre-Medical Scholars Programs. In addition, WPI is pleased to also offer a number of specialty merit scholarships to admitted students, including the ExxonMobil Scholars Program, Foisie Scholars Program, Global Scholars Program, and NCSSMST Scholarship Program.

While all applicants for admission are automatically considered for all scholarships, students wishing to strengthen their candidacy for the WPI specialty merit scholarships may submit the WPI Merit Scholarship Supplement Form as well as additional letters of reference. We encourage candidates to submit this form as close to the admissions application type deadline (Early Action Round I, Early Action Round II, or Regular) that the applicant selected as possible. Scholarship consideration is ongoing throughout the admissions process, but typically within two to three weeks of an admissions review.

More information on the WPI Merit Scholarship Program and the selection criteria can be found at admissions.wpi.edu/scholarships.html.
