Student support services programs in higher education are dedicated to promoting learning, personal development, and retention for college students. Effective programs and services for students require practitioners who understand the foundations of higher education, the educational value of academic enhanced student affairs programs, and the standards of professional practice; can create and implement environments that are conducive to student learning and development; and are able to provide students with viable systems that encourage and enhance learning and personal development. To be effective, these programs must be well organized and professionally administered.

The CAS Standards and Guidelines describe the basic structure and other essential elements of effective programs. However, they are subject to interpretation within the context of institutional mission and policies and should not be interpreted rigidly. Creative approaches to student learning and development are encouraged.

The CAS Alcohol and Other Drug Program Standards—the essential requirements for quality programs—are presented in bold-faced type and use the auxiliary verbs "shall" and "must." Guidelines are the statements printed in smaller regular type that follow the standards. Though guidelines are highly desirable elements that program leaders are encouraged to follow, they represent approaches connected with "good practice" and are not "requirements" that a program must meet to be in compliance with the standards. Guidelines explain, amplify, or interpret the meanings of the standards through examples and more detailed explanations. The auxiliary verbs “should” and "may" are used in guidelines. It is not uncommon practice for a self-assessment team to incorporate one or more of the CAS Guidelines into the review and rating process to strengthen and enhance a program beyond expected levels of practice.

For scoring purposes, an INA [Information Not Available] response for which documentation is not available should be scored as a 1; an Exemplary (EX) response should be scored as a 5. All other ratings should be scored as a number 1 through 5.

Recommended procedures and strategies for using the “criterion measure” rating scales for program evaluation purposes are described in detail in the introductory section of this Guide. Creation of a program action plan concludes the self-assessment process and, upon its completion, the worksheet can be used to guide the action plan’s development.

Program Reviewed: Healthy Alternatives Program

Instructions:
The assessment criterion measures in this self-assessment worksheet are based directly on the essential requirements are identified with bold print. Recommended requirements are identified in regular print. Use the scale below to rate the program under study against the assessment criterion statements. Place ratings in the space to the right of each criterion statement. Use the Information Not Available (INA) response ONLY when documentation or other information is unavailable to support the observation. Use the Exemplary (EX) response ONLY when documentation indicates that the criterion was met in exceptional fashion. AODP is used in this SAG as a short hand reference to the alcohol and other drug programs.

Part 1: Healthy Alternatives Mission Statement

Through the daily integration of recreational and wellness oriented activities, educational programming and peer education, the Healthy Alternatives Program promotes the development of healthy habits, attitudes, lifestyles and decisions involving student’s alcohol and drug use. While engaging students in campus life, the HAO Program helps to create, support and enhance an environment where students can make educated choices regarding their use of alcohol or drugs, or where they can intervene to help a friend with an alcohol related issue or situation.

Sum of Mission Ratings: 46/60

A. Cite CAS Guidelines to be assessed as program criterion measures for the self-study:

- develop, disseminate, interpret, and enforce campus regulations that are consistent with institutional policies and local, state/provincial, and federal law;
- promote healthy choices concerning the use of alcohol and other drugs, emphasizing the elimination of illegal use and the elimination or reduction of high-risk and harmful use;
- promote a climate in which abstention from the use of alcohol and other drugs is acceptable and promote a climate in which those who choose to drink alcohol learn to do so in a manner that minimizes risks of negative consequences to themselves or to others;
- define AODP prevention, education, intervention, and treatment policies and practices; and
- protect relevant legal rights of students.

B. Identify, summarize, and cross reference documentation that affects rating decisions:

1.2 & 1.4: Massachusetts Statewide College & University Coalition on Underage & Problem Drinking Assessment Instrument
1.5: Faculty & Staff e-mail update on the HAO Program dated 9/16/2003
1.7: HAO Activity Data

C. Identify and list discrepancies between assessment criteria and actual program practice:

1.4 & 1.5: Minimally met – Reviewed and disseminated (e-mail, Tech News) to the community only once per year.
1.6: Similar intent between CAS Standards & Massachusetts Statewide College & University Coalition on Underage & Problem Drinking. Mass. Coalition Assessment Instrument appears to be more explicit/pertinent.
1.7c: Lack of HAO focus/emphasis on substance free housing and intentionally supporting abstention.

D. Identify and list action plans proposed to bring program into compliance with standards:

1.4 & 1.5: Review goals annually; disseminate each semester to campus community via TechNews & e-mail to faculty, staff and students directing them to the HAO web page.
1.6: Complete Mass. Coalition Assessment Instrument annually for internal evaluation purposes.
1.7c: Encourage Healthy Alternatives House & develop joint programming efforts. Intentionally showcase students or data indicating abstinence is OK.

E. Identify and list recommended action plans proposed to enhance program quality:

1. Increase TIPS Peer Education Program focus.
2. Enhance Wellness Curriculum to incorporate TIPS Program Certification.
3. Strengthen Bacchus/Gamma Peer Education Program.

5. Work closely with RA’s to facilitate education & prevention efforts.
6. Initiate marketing strategies to further encourage wise & safe choices and peers taking care of each other.
Part 2: General Healthy Alternatives Program Plan

The formal education of students is purposeful, holistic, and consists of the curriculum and the co-curriculum. The alcohol and other drugs program must be (a) intentional, (b) coherent, (c) based on theories and knowledge of learning and human development, (d) reflective of developmental and demographic profiles of the student population, and (e) responsive to special needs of individuals.

The AODP must promote learning and development in students by encouraging outcomes such as intellectual growth, ability to communicate effectively, realistic self-appraisal, enhanced self-esteem, clarification of values, appropriate career choices, leadership development, physical fitness, meaningful interpersonal relations, ability to work independently and collaboratively, social responsibility, satisfying and productive lifestyles, appreciation of aesthetic and cultural diversity, and achievement of personal goals.

At minimum, the AODP must include the components of (a) policy, (b) assessment, (c) information, (d) education and training, and (e) student assistance.

Policies must be developed to
- maintain consistency with federal, state/provincial, and local laws;
- promote an educational environment free from the abuse of alcohol and use of illegal drugs;
- define geographic jurisdictions and demographic characteristics of populations that are to be governed;
- define individual behavior and group activity that are prohibited both on campus property and at off-campus events controlled by the institution;
- specify the potential consequences for using or possessing different amounts and/or categories of alcohol and other drugs;
- establish protocols and procedures for the involvement of campus law enforcement and other campus entities;
- establish protocols and procedures for referring individuals with alcohol or other drug problems to appropriate sources of assistance;
- define campus guidelines on the general marketing of alcoholic beverages; and
- define appropriate guidelines for any sanctioned use of alcohol.

Institutional alcohol and other drugs programs should also be established for faculty and staff members whose behaviors often serve as models for students.

The AODP must assess systematically the following campus factors:
- attitudes, beliefs, and behaviors regarding alcohol and other drug use, abuse, and dependency; and
- consequences of alcohol or other drug use or abuse on academic, work, or social performance; property damage; health, counseling, and disciplinary caseloads; and other indicators of problems.

The AODP and other campus entities must exchange general and nonconfidential assessment results of mutual application and benefit.

The AODP should assess the norms, behaviors, and behavioral consequences of specific target groups identified as appropriate for campus programs.

The AODP must gather and disseminate information to students on alcohol and other drug problems, resources and related topics.

The AODP must develop and/or provide education and training programs for students.

Educational topics should include the legal, physiological, psychological, and social aspects and effects of alcohol and other drug use, abuse, and dependency; high-risk uses of alcohol; federal, state/provincial, and local laws; campus regulations; techniques and protocols for identifying and referring students with problems to appropriate campus entities; risk factors for at-risk students and groups, including adult children of alcoholics, recovering alcoholics, women, and victims of alcohol or other drug related sexual assaults; and the impact of alcohol and other drug use related to physiological and behavioral differences linked with gender.

The AODP should develop, provide, and/or advocate activities that model practical applications of prevention theories and research results, including such activities as alcohol-free tailgate events, comedy and night club events, theatrical presentations, and outdoor events.

The AODP should provide training for faculty and staff in identifying, counseling, and referring students with alcohol and other drug problems.
The AODP should use such strategies as peer education, co-sponsorships, competitions for alcohol-free programming, alcohol and other drug awareness weeks, and health fairs to broaden student participation and involvement of other members of the campus community in education and training efforts.

The AODP should advocate incorporating alcohol and other drug information within relevant courses and curricula, and expanding campus library holdings.

The AODP must provide remedial support services for students with alcohol or drug related behavior problems.

Student involvement in an assistance program may be voluntary, upon self-initiation or referral, or mandatory, upon referral by judicial authorities or other entities.

Student assistance services should provide opportunities for students to explore the general risks of using and abusing alcohol and other drugs; to assess, in individual sessions, their personal attitudes, behaviors, and risks in using or abusing alcohol or other drugs; and to make decisions based on their individual situations.

Student assistance services should identify and maintain contacts with campus or community entities which offer effective treatment, education, and support to students, family members, and friends. Such services may include structured education and counseling sessions for individuals and groups; community service work; self-help groups such as Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, Alanon and adult children of alcoholics support groups; and detoxification and inpatient therapy.

Student assistance services should utilize resources from the campus and community to assist students by answering questions, sharing experiences, or accompanying them to self-help groups.

7. Continue to meet on an annual basis with the WPI Trustees to report on the HAO model & alcohol usage data.
8. Work with the Tobacco Free Massachusetts Coalition to initiate a smoking cessation campaign, particularly to highlight smoking & drinking interaction & behaviors.
Part 3: Healthy Alternatives Program Leadership

Effective and ethical leadership is essential to the success of all organizations. Institutions must appoint, position and empower leaders within the administrative structure to accomplish stated missions. Leaders at various levels must be selected on the basis of formal education and training, relevant work experience, personal attributes, and other professional credentials. Institutions must determine expectations of accountability for leaders and fairly assess their performance.

Leaders of the alcohol and other drugs program must exercise authority over resources for which they are responsible to achieve their respective missions. Leaders must articulate a vision for their organization; set goals and objectives; prescribe and practice ethical behavior; recruit, select, supervise, and develop others in the organization; manage, plan, budget, and evaluate; communicate effectively; and marshal cooperative action from colleagues, employees, other institutional constituencies, and persons outside the organization. AODP leaders must address individual, organizational, or environmental conditions that inhibit goal achievement. Leaders must improve programs and services continuously in response to changing needs of students and institutional priorities.
