Making a Difference Around the World

Public Presentation
Wednesday, October 3, 2012
5:00 p.m., Atwater Kent, Room 116

Martin Burt is founder and CEO of Fundación Paraguaya, a non-governmental organization devoted to the promotion of entrepreneurship among the world’s poor. Burt is also co-founder of Teach a Man to Fish, a global network that promotes “education that pays for itself,” partnering with more than 50 organizations from 27 countries to establish financially self-sufficient agricultural schools for rural poor.

Personal meetings
October 1–5
Meet one-on-one or in small groups with Mr. Burt, who will share his wealth of expertise as a social entreprenuer. If you are interested in meeting with Mr. Burt, please contact Sara Ringer at slringer@wpi.edu.
