Worcester Writers Interview with Eve Rifkah

Sequence 2:
Q: Please tell me a little bit about yourself (a brief biography).

Sequence 3:
Q: How did you decide to become a writer?

Sequence 4:
Q: What are your inspirations as a writer?

Sequence 5:
Q: When did you begin writing and publishing your literature?

Sequence 6:
Q: What is your goal as a poet and as an editor?

Sequence 7:
Q: Of all the works you have written, which are you most proud of?

Sequence 8:
Q: Your poetry book “At the Leprosarium” and your current book “Outcasts” generally describes many situations that people faced with leprosy. What sparked your interest to write about leprosy?

Sequence 9:
Q: Why did you specifically choose leprosy?

Sequence 10:
Q: Do certain authors/poets influence your work? If so, is your work influenced by the methods, approaches, or something else of their works?

Sequence 11:
Q: What other aspects influence your poetry?

Sequence 12:
Q: You are the editor of the literary journal Diner. What have you learned from being an editor?

Sequence 13:
Q: Are there any pieces of literature that you are currently working on?

Sequence 14:
Q: What advice would you give to aspiring writers?

Sequence 15:
Sample Poetry Reading